

Positively Asheville Presents...

Holiday Expressions

Do you have a creative outlet, skill, or talent? Does the idea of sharing your talent with other Positively Asheville members appeal to you? Positively Asheville is excited to host an inaugural event featuring the arts, crafts, and performance talents of our Positively Asheville leadership community. It all happens:

Thursday, Nov. 6, from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.
at Ella's on 49 Broadway St., Asheville

Join us for light bites, holiday music, artistic exhibits, and a cash mocktail bar

This is an opportunity to connect and celebrate with fellow members and guests.

Our creative passions define us above and beyond our organizational roles and responsibilities. They help to communicate the values and passions that we have in common. They help everyone get to know each other a little better.

We invite you to share your creative pursuits onstage or on display so that attendees may experience, enjoy and perhaps even purchase items in time for the holidays. In addition to exhibiting your creative side, you will enhance your business relationships in many ways, including:

- Self-expression
- Shared interests
- Differentiation
- Enjoyment and fun

Exhibit Space is available FREE to Positively Asheville members on a first-come, first-served basis. For more information, visit
